HOW TO PERFORM FIRST AID

1) If you find an ill or injured person, you must check the area around him / her first to make sure it isn't dangerous. Then move closer to the person and look carefully at them. Do they seem to be very ill? Do they have severe injuries?

Step 1

Step 2

Step 3

- If the person is awake but not bleeding, you have to ask them how they feel and what happened. Check their body for signs of injury or infection. You don't have to touch the person's body to do this.
- If the person doesn't reply, touch their shoulder or their foot and shout to see if they react, and remember to check for normal breathing.
- If the person isn't breathing, someone must call the emergency services immediately.
- If you know how to perform CPR, you have to do this to help the person start breathing again. However, you mustn't do CPR unless the person is lying on their back on a flat surface such as the floor.
- Place your hand on the centre of the person's chest. Put your other hand on top of the first hand and lock your fingers together. Make sure that your shoulders are above your hands.
- You don't have to press down on the person's chest very much – only five to six centimetres. Keep your hands on their chest and allow it to rise up again. You have to do this 100 to 120 times a minute until the person starts breathing again.

Listening

Athletic Heart Centre (AHC)

Most of us know that we need to stay healthy and many of us enjoy sports. But some young athletes believe that they don't need to worry about heart problems until they get very ill. However, health experts agree that athletes must get a special heart examination before they can be completely sure that they don't have a problem.

For example, in 2006, Mohamed Abdelwahab was an Egyptian footballer from Fayum who seemed to be very healthy.

At that time, football clubs didn't have to check their players' hearts, but then Abdelwahab fell down while he was training. Sadly, although the emergency services took him to hospital, Abdelwahab didn't survive.

Fortunately, Egypt became a pioneer in athletic heart care in 2018 when it established the first Athletic Heart Centre in the Middle East in Wadi el Nil Hospital.

It was decided that the AHC had to have the best technology to check every detail of an athlete's heart. And Dr Hazem Khamis, the Hospital Director, has said that the centre will help to protect everyone who enjoys sport in Egypt, and it will work with Liverpool John Moores University to help athletes abroad.

Dr Ahmed Ashraf Eissa, who is the Executive Director of the centre, also believes that anyone who does any kind of sport should check the health of their heart first. For example, the members of the Egyptian national team take full tests of their hearts before major competitions, such as the World Handball Championships.

And now Dr Hazem and Dr Ahmed have published a book together so that everyone can understand the importance of having a healthy heart. It's called Athletic Heart: Between Dreams of a Trophy and Sudden Death.

Young athletes, and their families, mustn't miss this chance to learn about the importance of heart examinations to stay fit and healthy.

Hi Fares,

How are you?

It's great that some of your friends are going to take a first aid course next week! I really think you should join them because everyone has to know how to do first aid. You never know when someone you know will injure themselves and you'll have to help them. You would want other people to help you too, right?

I'm sure you would be great at doing first aid because you can think fast and you know how to stay calm in difficult situations. You don't have to become an expert, just learn enough so you can help someone until the emergency services arrive. The two-day course your friends want to do sounds perfect.

Talk to you soon!

From:

Dear Health Today,

My cousins, Imad and Munir, are visiting me again for a few days, and it's always a pleasure to see them. Unfortunately, because they are both less than seven years old, they sometimes forget how important it is to keep clean and stay healthy. At the moment, many people in my area have the flu and so these things are even more important than usual. What can I do to persuade my cousins to change how they behave? They often come very close to show me things, like photos they have taken on their phones or something funny that they have found. And when they cough, they do not cover their mouths. They don't seem to understand why it is so important and it worries me a lot.

I'm also worried when I see them come inside because I don't think that they always wash their hands after they have been playing outside, touching things and getting dirty. They will clean their hands when I ask them, but I always have to remind them to do it.

I have heard that young children don't usually get very sick from flu and so they don't give the flu to older people, but I don't know if that is true. Do you think that I am right to worry?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours,
Shady

The Immune System

Our organs are the parts of our bodies that help us to do things, like the brain that thinks, or the heart that sends blood around our bodies. The immune system comes from the cells and organs that work together to protect us from diseases. The immune system does this by destroying things that get into our bodies like viruses.

A virus is a very, very small thing that causes a disease. The disease could be something ordinary, like the kind of cold we all get sometimes, or it could be something serious like the COVID-19, which first appeared at the end of 2019.

When a virus gets into a part of the body, a message is sent to the immune system. Then the immune system reacts by sending cells to find the virus. Cells are the smallest, separate living things in our bodies and they are small enough to fight against a disease.

Some people's immune systems work better than other people's. We all want our immune systems to be strong so we can stay healthy, so what can we do to help?

We can boost our immune system by eating a lot of fruit and vegetables, especially vegetables with green leaves. We also need to exercise regularly. We don't have to run 50 kilometres every day, but we need to be as active as possible.

We also need to make sure that we get enough sleep. For most people that means at least seven hours every night. Finally, we must do things like washing our hands regularly, which will help us to avoid getting a virus or an infection in the first place. We also need to do things like covering our mouths when we cough to stop other people getting an infection or virus.

Write an essay of about 180 words on the following topic:

"How we can stay healthy."

Health experts urge people to maintain a healthy lifestyle that involves good nutrition and regular exercise, with the goal of improving general well-being and strength. But what about the mind? One healthy method to battle difficult situations is a practice called mindfulness. Mindfulness is your awareness of what is happening in your mind, whether it is positive or negative. It is a mental exercise of learning how to react wisely, instead of blindly, to things that happen to you.

Mindfulness allows you to choose what will strengthen your mind and put it into action as well as pick what you ought to let go of.

One benefit of mindfulness is dealing with negative thoughts. Being aware of the negativity entering your mind enables you to control it before it affects your mood. Another advantage of practising mindfulness is being aware of positive emotions and using them to guide your mental state. You must be aware of your own thinking and feeling processes.

Since mindfulness is a habit, it requires training your consciousness and senses to focus on the surrounding environment to stay in the present moment instead of worrying about the past or future. Also, it requires you to observe your thoughts without getting absorbed in them. If you are feeling sad about a certain situation, it does not mean you are living a sad life. Finally, pay attention to your bodily sensations, such as breathing and moving, to remind yourself that you are more than just your emotions and thoughts. Once you master mindfulness, you will be able to recognise patterns, improve your behaviour, and maintain your inner peace.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Once upon a time, there was a young prince who wanted to marry a girl of good morals. So he ordered a royal decree asking every young woman who wanted to be his bride to come to the royal palace the following day at eight o'clock in the morning. The promised day came, and the girls gathered in the courtyard of the palace, each in their best looks. The prince stood, greeted them, called them, and told them that he would hold a contest and marry the one who won it. And that he would give each of them a planting pot in which there was a seed, and he asked each of them to take care of this seed in her own way, and to return here a month from today. The girls took their pots and left with surprises at this strange contest. One of these girls was a beautiful girl named Maria. Maria diligently watered and looked after her seed, but she never noticed its growth for a month. She decided that she would not go to the palace the next day because her seed did not grow, but

Aunt Diana convinced her to go. Maria went to the palace with her vegetated basin. She feels ashamed when she sees the girls holding plants of different shapes and colors in their hands. Maria was about to return home with tears over her, but the minister who was wandering in the square asked her to go up to the platform with him to meet the prince. Maria was stunned and turbulently climbed up to the stage with him. The prince greeted her and said: I commanded the minister to give each of you a planting tank in which there was a rotten seed, so that I could see what you would do with it. Maria wins the contest and the prince asks her to marry him, to the astonishment of all the other girls.

An Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving

In September 1620, a ship called the Mayflower arrived in North America with 102 passengers. Many died, but some were able to grow food and survive with help from Native Americans. Thanksgiving is a day when families get together to remember these events. It is celebrated in the USA every year on the fourth Thursday in November.

In 1882, Louisa M. Alcott wrote a short story called An Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving.

Here is an extract:

When they woke, there was still a large amount of snow outside. Tilly made a good breakfast for the seven children. "Now, about dinner," she said as they all finished eating. "Ma said that we could have whatever we liked, but she didn't expect us to have a traditional Thanksgiving dinner."

"Have you ever cooked a turkey?" asked Roxy. "Ma said I should decide what to do," replied Tilly. All you children have to do is keep out of the way, and let Prue and me work."

The younger children walked out of the kitchen and into another room. As Tilly and Prue started to prepare the big meal, they got out all the spoons, dishes, pots and pans that they could find.

"Now, sister, we'll have dinner at five," said Tilly. "Pa will be here by that time and he'll be surprised to find us ready to serve the food. There's such a lot to do, and I'm a bit worried about the turkey. It's so big!" "I know," said Prue. "I fed it all summer and now it will feed me," she laughed.

An article about New Year

As one year changes to the next, many countries around the world choose to celebrate the start of the New Year with special food. However, different countries eat very different things to enjoy the occasion. In Mexico, for example, many people eat out at the many restaurants around the country on New Year's Day. The most popular dish is always tamales, which is made from meat, cheese vegetables that are cooked inside banana leaves.

However, when the New Year arrives in Japan, people make special little cakes from sweet rice. Then they get together with their family and friends to eat them and celebrate. In Spain, it is traditional to eat twelve grapes to welcome the New Year. The Spanish people eat this particular amount of grapes late at night, when the clock reaches midnight, or twelve o'clock, and they have one grape for each hour of the clock. In Poland, people start to prepare a fish called "herring" at least five days before they eat it. They put the fish in a jar with water, onions and sugar and then they wait for the big day. Finally, in Greenland, it is traditional for the men to serve a special meal of whale for women to enjoy. It takes months for the meat to become ready to eat and people say the smell is very strong.

Listening

A Thanksgiving invitation

- Amy So, did you ask your parents about visiting our home for Thanksgiving, Huda?
- Hoda Yes. They like me to try new things and they thought it would be a great idea. My mum was very curious about the food you eat.
- Amy You'll love the food at Thanksgiving, Hoda. Have you had turkey before? It's a lot like chicken but it's very big.
- Hoda Well, I like chicken, so that should be okay. What else do you have?
- Amy We have a special kind of bread, called cornbread. It's delicious. And we have sweet potatoes. They're like normal potatoes, but much nicer.
- Hoda That sounds great. What do you have for dessert?
- Amy My mum makes the most wonderful pumpkin pie. It's very sweet and heavy. Sometimes I fall asleep after I eat it, so I'll try not to eat too much.
- Hoda Now I'm feeling hungry.
- Amy Me too. But the best thing about Thanksgiving is that we all have to help with the cooking. It's a great time to meet and catch up with friends and family. That's why we're all really looking forward to seeing you.
- Hoda Great. I can't wait!

Meals from around the world

Nasi goreng is a meal with rice from Indonesia. In fact, the words "Nasi goreng" mean 'fried rice' in Indonesian. Many people believe that Nasi goreng is one of the spiciest meals in Indonesia, but for most people it's simply the best meal you can eat.

Nasi goreng is made by frying rice and adding vegetables and either chicken or prawns to the pan. It's a bit saltier than some other Indonesian meals and it often comes with a fried egg on top. Nasi goreng is usually cheaper than most other meals in Indonesia. You can get it either in restaurants or from people who cook food on the side of the road.

Oysters are a type of shellfish that people dig out of the earth under the sea. They're rarer than most other types of seafood and you can only eat them for seven months of the year. During these months, thousands of oysters are eaten in France because many people believe they're one of the most special foods you can eat. This means that oysters are usually one of the most expensive meals on the menu in French restaurants.

Mochi are sweet, round rice cakes which are smaller than most of the cakes people eat. They look like little balls and they're made in many different colours. In Japan, where they come from, mochi are the most popular type of cake and the Japanese eat large amounts of them. Mochi were first made about one thousand years ago and people thought that they brought good luck.

Today, different colours and types of mochi are more popular than others on different special occasions. For example, when the Japanese celebrate New Year's Day, flat, white mochi is the most popular type of mochi to eat.

Three ways that people show respect when they have meals together

A) Personally, I think it's important to respect our older relatives. When South Korean families eat together, the oldest person at the table always starts to eat first. The rest of the family waits until this person has finished eating before they finish their meals. It is believed that this shows your respect for the most important people in your family.

B) As you probably know, people in China usually use chopsticks to eat their food. However, you need to be careful about what you do with them when you're eating there. It is considered very rude to put your chopsticks vertically into your bowl of food, for example. I understand that this is a Chinese tradition, but for me, foreigners who do this don't mean to be rude at all.

C) In my opinion, lunchtime isn't the best time of day for eating a large meal. However, in Russia it is thought that people should eat their largest meal of the day between 1 o'clock and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. In the evening, people usually eat some light food, such as bread and cold meat followed by tea. This is a traditional way of eating in Russia.

Read these other beliefs about mealtimes

1. It's normal for a family to share food from one plate.
 2. People should never eat beef because cows are special animals.
 3. It's OK to make noises while you're eating soup with noodles.
- There are often differences in people's beliefs and ways of doing things.
It is important to show respect for other people's beliefs.

Tips to write a questionnaire

When you write a questionnaire, the type of questions you use is important. The questions should use simple language and shouldn't be difficult to understand. You don't need to repeat the question. Don't give too many options as this will confuse people. And never ask personal questions. People generally won't want to answer these. Ask one thing at a time. Make sure you don't have two questions in one, for example, "Do you go abroad often with your friends." And don't ask about things which happened a long time in the past. It can be difficult for people to remember. When you are ready, decide on the best time to ask your questions - before people start to forget!

- Remember to use simple language.
- Think carefully about the questions. What information do you need to find out?
- Do not ask personal questions or questions that are difficult to answer.
- Do not have too many options.
- Ask one question at a time.

As you probably know, people eat very different things for breakfast around the world. Yes, they do. In my opinion, breakfast is the best meal of the day. What do people eat in other countries?

Let's start with the UK. It is thought that the British have the most unhealthy traditional breakfast. They have fried eggs, beans, toast and fried meat.

Personally, I wouldn't want to eat such a big meal in the morning. What about the French?

I understand that the French have a much smaller breakfast: just a croissant or piece of bread.

That sounds nice, but for me, I'm happy with my usual breakfast of bread, cheese and an egg! One piece of bread would be too little.

Tips on writing a questionnaire

When you're writing a questionnaire, you need to ask the right questions. Some questions are a lot more useful than others. And, very often, small changes to a questionnaire can make a lot of difference.

Firstly, it's important that the questions are easy for you to understand, so it's always helpful to use simple language. If you use complicated language, people will need to read or hear the questions two or three times.

Secondly, it's important to use words with clear meanings. Words like most and 'many' mean different things to different people. So, use words that are easier to understand, such as almost all and almost none instead.

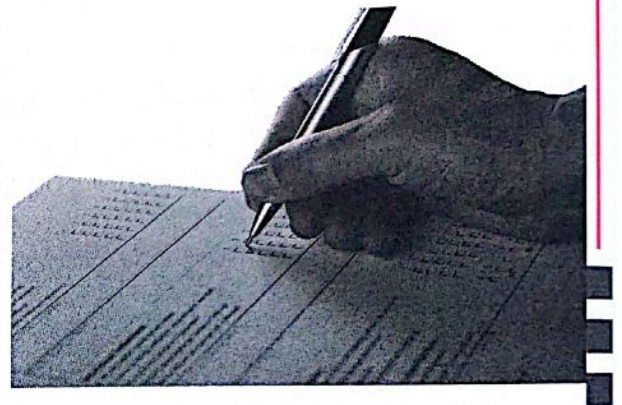

Thirdly, don't have too many options. People get confused when there are more than six options to choose from.

Don't ask personal questions, like questions about money. People don't like talking about these things.

Remember to ask one question at a time. Don't put two questions into one, for example: 'How often do you eat out with your family?' Some people will eat out quite often, but not with their family. And others might eat with their family all the time, but only at home.

Finally, make sure the answers to your questions are easy to remember. Don't ask about events in the distant past, especially if they are about something that was boring.

Then, when you know the questions you want to ask, think about the best time to ask people. If you're going to ask people about a recent event, for example, do it before they start to forget.

٧. إدارة أخصاً ٢٠٢٢

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Did you know that our Earth has a special day? Every year on the 22nd of April, we celebrate Earth Day. On this day, we remind ourselves and others how important the Earth is to look after it. We have no other home.

Earth Day was the idea of the American Senator Gaylord Nelson who didn't want to see our Earth suffer. Rivers and seas were getting dirty, many of our plants and animals died out. Therefore, he decided to respond and create a special day to take care of Earth. He started by writing letters to schools, to inform students and teachers about his idea. He hoped that young people around the country would be positive. Fortunately, they did!

As a result, in 1970, twenty million people across America celebrated the first Earth Day. People all over the country made promises to look after the environment. Since then, Earth Day has been celebrated all over the world.

Today, on Earth Day people organise events such as concerts, tree-planting camps and collecting money. Children also help design and make things at school. Now all of us promise to try to turn everyday into Earth Day!

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

In Egypt, the tourism industry has come to hold a position of great importance lately. It is felt that it could help increase the national income. In some European countries, tourism has brought in millions of dollars yearly, although they lack the natural and historical attractions we have in Egypt. We could, for instance, establish tourist villages for children on the Red Sea. We could teach fishing, swimming, diving and sailing there. Another good idea would be a village in the New Valley for horse riding. And what about villages for people with health problems like rheumatism? The warm dry climate of Aswan and Helwan would help them get better. Our tourist today wants efficient and friendly service. He would probably prefer to try our samples of our local food rather than to eat the international meals which are served in some places. It must also be remembered that most tourists nowadays are seldom rich. Many of them are students or hardworking employees. So what is needed is not expensive hotels but clean comfortable places to sleep and eat in at reasonable prices. This, too, would encourage Egyptians to travel more and more around their lovely country.

أزهر سوهاج ٢٠٢٢

Internet addiction has become one of the serious problems especially among young people over the last few years. Spending too much time surfing websites or chatting with friends affects physical and mental health negatively. They spend their precious time doing unimportant things and as a result they neglect their duties. Students lose concentration on their study and become more likely to hate their lessons. Workers also don't concentrate on their jobs and make frequent and sometimes big mistakes. People who are addicted to the internet also lose their ability to communicate face to face with other people. They also get irritable when they lose their access to the internet.

A Answer the following questions:

1. When has the Internet addiction become a problem?

Read the following passage, then answer the questions.

John was a very rich and selfish boy. One day, he told his classmates that he was going to bring an enormous box of sweets. He wanted to make everybody jealous, but he was so greedy that he ate half of the sweets on his way to school.

"Never mind," he thought, "It's still more sweets than anyone else has!" But John was not careful with his belongings and by the time he got to school he had already lost the box of sweets. A girl called Sarah found the box of sweets. She knew that it must be the one that John had been talking about. None of the other children were rich enough to afford so many sweets. When she arrived at school, she returned the box to John. He was excited but saw an opportunity. He wanted to show everyone a full box, not a half-empty one.

John thanked Sarah but then immediately went to the teacher. "Mrs. Brown," said John, "I lost my box of sweets and Sarah found it, but half of the sweets have gone! She must have eaten them!" Mrs. Brown knew her students very well and was sure that polite and responsible Sarah had not eaten John's sweets. "How many sweets were in the box when you found it, Sarah?" she asked. "It was half full, Mrs. Brown."

"Are you sure, Sarah?" "Yes, Mrs. Brown," she replied.

"She's lying!" shouted John. "It was full!" he said.

"Are you sure, John?" asked Mrs. Brown. "Absolutely!" replied John.

"Well then," said Mrs. Brown, "The half-empty box of sweets can't be yours, John. If anyone finds a full box of sweets, then we will make sure it is returned to you."

The population problem in Egypt

The population of Egypt is growing by nearly two percent a year. That means that there are more people living in its cities every six months. This is a problem in a country where 95% of its population lives on about 25% of its land. It is thought that the population of Egypt will be around 150 million by 2050.

So what are the solutions to these problems? One plan is to invest billions of pounds in a new capital city outside Cairo. This is one of the big projects that will help 700,000 young people who start looking for work each year.

Read two articles about the future of farming

- 1) According to the United Nations, there will be almost 10 billion people in the world by 2050. As a result, we will have to increase our food production by about 70% percent. However, farmers do not have space to keep more livestock and grow more crops. Instead, they'll need to look for more sustainable solutions and this will involve producing a wider variety of food.

How would you feel about eating a burger that was grown in a laboratory? Scientists think that it could be more sustainable than keeping livestock.

Some of the people who have eaten these burgers say that they can't tell the difference between the new burgers and real meat.

- 2) Researchers from the United Nations have found that some kinds of agriculture are seriously damaging the land. This is not sustainable. If farming continues to cause so much damage, there won't be enough land left for food production. In Europe, most of the damage is due to farmers using too many chemicals, so they will need to find new ways to help their crops grow. In southern Africa, the problem is that there is too much rain in the summer. In the future, we can expect that farmers in southern Africa will be using innovations in technology to remove water from the land and use it elsewhere.

The future of forests

The world has been losing millions of trees from the rainforests every year for a long time. Many trees get cut down so that we have wood to make furniture, and many more get cut down because people need the land to grow food. However, there may be hope for the future because countries around the world are changing the way we think about these important areas. Changes started a long time ago in Costa Rica. Around 60% of the rainforest in this small Central American Country was lost in the 1980s. But in the 1990s, the government started working with local farmers and persuaded them to look after the rainforests instead of cutting down more trees. This encouraged tourists to visit the country, and soon the local people started to make more money from tourism than from cutting down trees.

It was a great success, but things got worse in other parts of the world, such as the Amazon rainforest, until 2004. Then many people and governments around the world started to change how they thought about rainforests, and the number of trees cut down there has been getting smaller every year. Many parts of the Amazon rainforest are now protected and, like Costa Rica, it is hoped that more people will be visiting and enjoying this extraordinary place in the future. Finally, we can all hope that our children will be learning about the rainforests for many years to come.

Interviewer

Hello everyone. In today's show I'll be talking to my guest, Dr Sarita Parker, who's an expert on the rainforests in Borneo. Welcome to the show, Dr Parker.

Dr Parker

It's great to be with you, John.

Interviewer

Now, we all think that we know what a rainforest is, but how would you describe it?

Dr Parker

A rainforest has a lot of trees and many different types of animals and plants live in it. And it's a place that's usually very hot and it rains a lot, too.

Interviewer

And what can you tell us about the rainforests in Borneo?

Dr Parker

Well, Borneo is a large island in South-East Asia and it has one of the oldest rainforests in the world. However, recently the island has become hotter and there has been less rain than usual. And scientists think that there will be even less rainfall on the island in the next few years.

Interviewer

Why is that?

Dr Parker

Unfortunately, some farmers are cutting down trees and starting fires so they can grow crops and keep livestock there. Now the rainforest is about thirty percent smaller today than it was forty years ago. And if there's less rainforest, there's less rain and the island will get even hotter, you see. So, we're very worried that farmers are going to continue to damage the rainforest over the next few decades. That would be terrible for the animals and plant life in the rainforest, and Borneo would heat up even more.

Interviewer

Do you think those farmers will keep cutting down so many trees in the future, or will they use more sustainable ways to grow crops and keep livestock?

Dr Parker

Well, it won't be easy. Of course, many farmers are just trying to feed their families, however, we hope that in a few years' time, more farmers will be using sustainable farming techniques and things will improve. They need information about how they can plant new trees and move crops around from one field to another each year. But farmers won't change until they understand why they need to change and they have everything they need to do that. My organisation will be running an education programme next month to help them.

Interviewer

Hydroponics

With the population of the world predicted to grow to around 10 billion by 2050, one problem we will have is finding enough land for food production. A possible solution to this problem is using something called hydroponics.

Hydroponics is a way to grow plants without using any soil. Instead, farmers grow the plants in special water which contains all the food that plants need to grow. This is a big help for farmers living in areas with poor soil. Hydroponics uses a lot less space than traditional farming and surprisingly, it also uses less water because any water that the plants do not use is reused. There are also fewer problems with insects. Almost any plant can grow using hydroponics and many plants produce more fruit and leaves this way.

Some people argue that hydroponics is not very good for large farms because they need expensive computers to control the flow of water, light, etc. to the plants, but others argue that it could offer the best solution to future problems. Many scientists think that in the future, we will be using hydroponics to grow food even in places where nothing grows now, such as deserts, Antarctica or even space.

Remember when you write a summary:

- ◆ Think about the main idea of the article
- ◆ Use the most important words and phrases from the article
- ◆ Link the ideas with phrases such as first, after that, finally
- ◆ Check the summary is clear and that you have included all the main ideas

Is algae the future of food?

We will need to find sustainable sources of food in the future because there will be more people to feed and many places will be too hot and dry for agriculture. So, why don't we think about farms in the sea?

Algae are plants that grow very quickly in water and wet places. They are eaten by everything from the smallest fish to giant whales. Some kinds of algae are called seaweed, and this is a very popular food in China and Japan.

Algae is very healthy and some scientists believe that a lot more people will be eating it in the future. They hope that farmers won't need to damage the environment, because they will be growing our food in the ocean. In fact, scientists think that growing algae will help to clean the sea and improve the air that we breathe. But will you want to eat it? Well, you might not even notice. Scientists are already using seaweed to replace salt in bread and some other foods to make it much healthier.

The future of farming

This essay will focus on the future of agriculture

First, I will explain the reason why agriculture needs to change. After that, we will look at several ways that agriculture could change. Finally, I will give my opinion on what farmers should do to prepare for the future.

The Earth's surface is heating up and soon there will be less land that farmers can use. In the case of Africa, the continent could lose up to 18 percent of its farm land in the next fifty years. 'As a result, farmers will need to farm their land even more efficiently.

Due to the fact that there will be less land available for agriculture in the future, farmers will need to grow a greater variety of crops. Evidence suggests that keeping livestock will not be sustainable and we may start the production of new sources of food, like algae, instead. In my view, farmers should see this as a chance to try new things and to start using new technology, such as robots, on their farms. They should start doing this immediately so they're prepared for the future.

To conclude, agriculture is clearly going to change a lot over the next few decades and farmers will need to change the way they farm, too.

Urban farming

This essay will focus on something my uncle is planning to do to help food production: something called urban farming.

My uncle lives in London and first, I will explain what urban farming is and why he wants to do it with a group of his friends. Urban farming is growing food in our cities. Of course, cities are not usually good for farming due to the fact that there is so little green space, but he says they will be using flat roofs, gardens and open spaces to grow what they can.

In the case of London, people already grow a lot of flowers in their gardens, but next year, the group of friends will be planting more fruit and vegetables in any open spaces they can use. At the end of the year, they will be eating fresh fruit and vegetables from these spaces.

In my view, urban farming is a great idea. It will help my uncle and his friends to save money in the shops, and it might also help them to earn money. They hope they will be selling some of the produce to local restaurants and markets.

To conclude, urban farming is an interesting idea. All the evidence suggests that it could help us grow our own food in the future, even in cities without much outdoor space.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Many people have jobs that are not very interesting, but a lot of people have to work at night, and this is very difficult. When everybody else is getting ready to go out, they have to go to work, and this puts a lot of psychological stress on them. It is also not very healthy because the human body is designed to be active in the day and to rest in the dark. If this cycle is reversed, it can have a bad effect on a person's health. So, why do people do night shift? Nowadays many business have to offer a 24 hour service, like hotels, delivery companies, some supermarkets open all night and all day, call centres and hospitals. It is true that some people only need a few hours sleep at night but the majority need eight hours. Humans are most active in the middle of the day, and the time when they are least able to concentrate and be efficient is between 2am and 4 am. This is the worst time to drive, or to do anything that needs concentration. The body finds it very difficult to adapt to the opposite cycle. Things are not likely to get better in the future because more and more business are working 24 hour cycles to keep in step with our 24 hour society.

B Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

As the world population continues to grow and climate change makes it more difficult to produce food in the traditional way, scientists are developing new ways of growing plants efficiently. One of these ways is growing plants without soil. Although this may sound like a modern process, it is not new technology. Ancient Egyptians writings describe how plants were grown in water and early examples include the famous gardens of Babylon and floating gardens built by the Aztec in Mexico. In traditional farming, soil protects the roots of plants, but scientists have shown that plants don't need soil to grow as long as they can get nutrients from somewhere, they will grow successfully. To grow plants without soil, a special fertilizer is added to water, the plants take this in through their roots.

Recently, this technology has developed very quickly. It is common in northern Europe where it is used to grow food crops. Vegetables have been grown in submarines and astronauts have produced food in space using this technology. Many people think that growing plants in water could help to solve the world's food problems. As cities become larger, there is less land for agriculture. Countries with little land for growing crops could produce more of their food without soil. This way can also be used in poor soils such as deserts and in areas near the sea where is salty water is damaging the soil. Perhaps soon there will be no areas in the world where food can be produced.

16. The best title for this passage is
17. There must be a to grow plants in water.
18. Growing plants in water can be used in areas with soil.

Hydroponics is a way to grow plants without using any soil. Instead, farmers grow the plants in special water which contains all the food that plants need to grow. This is a big help for farmers living in areas with poor soil. Hydroponics uses a lot less space than traditional farming and it also uses less water. There are also fewer problems with insects. Many scientists think that in the future, we will be using hydroponics to grow food.

Text messaging

Plz read this article ASAP It's gr8. Hope u like it!

For any readers who can't understand the language of text messaging, the translation is: Please read this article as soon as possible. It's great. I hope you like it. In text messages, abbreviations, emojis and numbers are all used to make communication quicker. The language of text messages doesn't require correct spelling, or difficult grammar and punctuation. Messaging language is appearing in everyday English more often. When people write emails, many of them use a lot of abbreviations and emojis.

Some people use less punctuation, but others use more than they need!!!

So, is messaging language damaging English? Messaging language may be fun to use with friends, but it isn't suitable in formal emails. And now teachers are worried that some teenagers are no longer able to speak or write using English correctly. However, some linguists suggest that the people who use messaging language are actually language innovators, introducing new ideas into English. They argue that messaging language is quick, short and communicates a lot in a small space. Whether or not you like messaging language, English is continuing to change. Perhaps it would be a good idea to learn some of the basic abbreviations so you can enjoy talking to your friends with fun, short message!

Text messages

Hi Hamdi, I had so much fun this morning! laugh out loud (LOL). I was on TV, talking about tech, and I warned people not to open any strange emails. It was great! (gr8). They asked me to go back next week! I'll see you later (c u l8r) and I will tell you all about it.

Khalid

Hey Nadia, thanks (thx) for your help! I'm so glad you advised me to change the photos on my blog. I don't know (idk) what I was thinking! My dad warned me not to post personal information, but I didn't think about the photos. I'll change them as soon as possible (ASAP).

Judy

Yasser, why didn't you tell me that you can't find my book? I asked you to look after it. Can you please (plz) look for it again and bring it to school tomorrow?

Medhat

Presenter

Hello everyone, thanks for joining me today on Afternoon Talktime. And today we are talking about messaging. My guest today is Dr Magda Morsy. She is the author of the book "A Guide to Messaging" which encourages us to use messaging positively. Welcome to the programme, Dr Magda.

Dr Magda
Presenter

Thank you. It's lovely to be here.

So, many parents are worried about their children and messaging. I myself have a 15-year-old daughter and we had an example of a messaging problem just yesterday when she came down to dinner very upset. She couldn't stop crying. Eventually she admitted that she was upset because of her friend. They were messaging and having fun, but then my daughter, Talia had written LOL - laugh out loud - in response to a photo her friend Mona, had posted of herself. Talia thought it was a funny photo. She waited for an hour, but Mona didn't reply. Talia couldn't understand what the problem was and was worried that Mona was upset with her.

Dr Magda

This is a good example of why we need to be aware of the advantages and disadvantages of messaging, and how it can very easily make us worried and upset if we get it wrong.

Presenter
Dr Magda

Because messaging is different to speaking face-to-face, isn't it?

Exactly! Sometimes face-to-face communication can be confusing, it's easy to feel the other person isn't listening for example, or isn't interested in what you are saying, but messaging can be much more confusing. And this is basically because you can't see the other person's face - is he or she smiling or frowning? And you can't hear their voice - are they angry? Are they making a joke. Are they feeling sad? And you can't see their body movements. When we speak to someone face-to-face; we notice all these things; facial expressions, body movements and the tone of what they are saying. When we message, we have to guess a lot of these things. This means we can often misunderstand what the other person is trying to communicate.

Presenter
Dr Magda

So, that's the negative side of messaging. Is there a positive side?

Yes, of course. Messaging is great for staying in touch with friends, but remember that messaging is designed to be short so don't expect to have long conversations, and don't get upset when you get one word or even an abbreviation or acronym as a response to your message.

Presenter
Dr Magda

So, what should my daughter, Talia, have done yesterday evening?

Well, first of all, she shouldn't have got upset so quickly. Just because you don't get an immediate reply does not necessarily mean that the person is not interested in chatting with you. People are busy and they have got other things to do. So, she shouldn't have sat in her room for an hour looking at her phone and waiting for Mona to reply. She should have put her phone down and done something else and checked her phone later. And of course, if she was really worried, she could have called and spoken to Mona. She could have messaged and said 'Can I call you?'

Presenter

So, I think Dr Magda is telling us to remember that sometimes more traditional communication is important.

Magda

I am! Absolutely. Messaging is one form of communication not the only form of communication.

Shakespeare and the English language

Language is always changing, and new words are created all the time. We need new words to describe new technology, ideas and situations. For example, before people took photos of themselves on their phones, we didn't need a word for that.

But when everyone started doing it, the word selfie became very useful, and it was added to dictionaries in 2013.

Many famous dictionaries add new words every year, and sometimes they remove words and phrases that we don't use anymore. Shakespeare was a great innovator with language, and he added more words and phrases into the English language than anyone else. He made new words by changing verbs into adjectives, changing nouns into verbs, and connecting words to make new words. He also added prefixes and suffixes, for example, he created uncomfortable from 'comfortable'. Today the language that Shakespeare used can sound difficult, but he was writing in a way that made his stories easy for people to understand at that time like messaging language, Shakespeare made new words from other words that everyone already knew. Then he used his words to describe the things that people most wanted to talk about.

Emoji fun!

Yesterday, my four-year-old sister sent her grandparents some text messages from my phone. The problem is, there are no words, just a long line of emojis. This is confusing because our grandparents think the messages are from me! Should I have taken the phone away from my sister?

When a child begins to learn how to speak, they first make different sounds. It seems that children do the same with messaging. They use emojis rather than proper words to communicate what they want to say. But is this a good thing? Yes! Young children are learning to communicate. With text messages, children can receive and read replies which are written just for them. I'm sure this will make them feel special and they will want to communicate more. So, instead of taking phones away from children, perhaps we should give them our phones more often and say, "Send your grandparents a message".

Endless change

The Romans spoke a language called Latin and they first took it to the country they called Britannia almost two thousand years ago. However, the English language came from Germany when people called Angles and Saxons arrived about 500 years later. Soon the Land of the Angles became known as England and the English have been using and misusing foreign words ever since. For example, words like cake, eggs, and happy all come from Old Norse, which was the language spoken by the Vikings who came to England a few years after the Angles. However, many more English words came from the French, who arrived in 1066. Unlike the poor people, who continued speaking English, all the rich and powerful people spoke French. That's why there are so many words in English with similar meanings. French words are recognizable because they usually describe something which is better. For example, the word house is an English word, but a big house is called a mansion, which is a French word. In the modern age, we often reuse old words from the past to make new international words for technology. For example, the first part of the word helicopter is Greek and the second part is Latin, but the word was first used by a Russian speaker living in America.

A survey about social media use

Introduction

The aim of this report is to summarise the findings of the survey into the time students spend using social media.

Procedure

Between 2015 and 2020, we asked 1,200 students about the amount of time they spent using social media. We also asked them how they used social media, and what they liked and disliked about using it. We recorded our results and compared them.

Findings

Most of the students were surprised by how much time they spent on social media when they thought about it carefully. Many students thought that they were spending too much time on social media and some students said that they would try to spend less time on social media. Some students reported that at least one member of their family had made a negative comment about it.

However, almost all of the students reported that they enjoyed using social media and most of the students did not want to stop using it.

Most students used social media on their phones. The students used social media to keep in touch with their friends, and to follow their interests or hobbies.

Conclusion

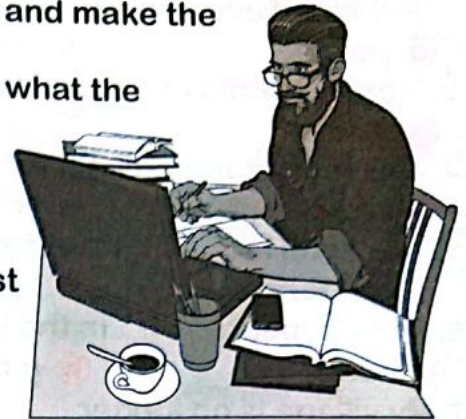

In general, students enjoy social media and they are using it more often. However, it is making a small number of students worried because they feel that they are spending too much time on it.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Reading stimulates your mind. It is like a workout for your brain. When people get old, their muscles begin to deteriorate. They get weaker and their strength leaves them. Exercise can prevent their loss. The same thing happens to people's brains when they get older. Brainpower and speed decline with age. Reading strengthens your brain and prevents these declines.

Reading can make you a more powerful person. You can learn to do new things by reading. Do you want to make video games? Do you want to design clothing? Reading can teach you all this and more. Read everything that you can at school, whether it is interesting or not. Reading expands your vocabulary. Even a "boring" text can teach you new words. Having a larger vocabulary will help you better express yourself. You will be able to speak, write and think more intelligently. What's boring about that?

Do not just discount a text because it is unfamiliar to you. Each time you read, you are exposed to new ideas perspective. Reading can change the way that you understand the world. It can give you a broader perspective on things. It can make you worldlier. You can learn how people live in faraway places. You can learn about cultures different from your own.

Reading is good for your state of mind. It has a calming effect. It can lower your stress levels and help you relax. You can escape from your troubles for a moment when you read, and it's a positive escape. The benefits of reading can't be counted. So do yourself a favour: the next time you get a reading assignment, take as much as you can from it. Squeeze it for every drop of knowledge that it contains. Then move on the next one.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

The application of spreading theories of economics has so far failed to lift developing countries out of the cycle of poverty that has effects on the majority of their inhabitants. Worldwide, there are still an estimated 1.3 billion people earning a dollar or less a day and living in extreme poverty. Decades of huge loans by banks from affluent nations at interest rates that cripple developing economies do not appear to be providing a solution to poverty. Professor Muhammad Yunus' Grameen Bank, however, is taking a different approach to the problem.

In 1976, the Bangladeshi economics professor started a microcredit programme with a loan of just 62 cents (U.S) each to a group of 42 workers. Instead of loaning large amounts of money to well-off debtors, the bank he started made extremely small loans to poor Bangladeshis who were considered a bad risk by the traditional banking system.

He astounded his critics by proving that the poor were more likely to repay their debts than the wealthy. Virtually none of the thousands of women who have been financially assisted by the bank for over 20 years have defaulted on their payments. Yet all are expected to pay interest and stick to the rules of contract. These borrowings have enabled Bangladeshi women to set up numerous small-scale projects which directly benefit their families and the communities where they live. The success of the experiment has brought about a revolution in the antipoverty programmes.

2) Read the following passage, then answer the questions: (5 Marks)

One day, I was waiting for a friend in town when I saw too many people. One was waiting on the pavement wearing old clothes and had a hat in front of him. As people passed he said "Can you give me money, please?" Some people threw coins into his hat but most walked past. The other man, who was wearing a suit stopped people and asked them politely to lend him money to buy petrol for his car. Most people happily gave him coins or notes. During the ten minutes I was watching him, he collected a lot of money, and he put it all in his pocket but didn't go to buy petrol, I soon realized that both men just wanted money. The one in the old clothes needed money than the one in the suit but the one in the suit got more money. Isn't that strange?

A Answer the following questions:

- What was the writer doing in the town?
.....
- How did the two men look different?
.....
- What does the underlined word "him" refer to?
.....

B Choose the correct answer:

- Why was the man's hat in front of him?
 (a) It had fallen off his head.
 (b) It was there on the pavement before he sat.
 (c) He put it for people to throw money in it.
 (d) He had taken it off because it was a hot day.
- Why didn't the man in the suit go to buy petrol?

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." Has that wise saying been proved to you? Did any of your close friends ever stand beside you at the times of sorrow, distress or the times of joy? That has become a needle in a haystack at those times of struggling and climbing on the shoulders of others.

At the very beginning of one's life, a child makes friends with a lot of peers who are maybe a mixture of good or bad. He, due to his young age, can't perfectly judge or decide who to continue keeping or losing friendship with. By the time he becomes older, the number of friends decreases to a number that doesn't exceed the number of one hand fingers. It all depends on to what extent they are faithful, selfless and honest to each other.

Friendship that all mankind always search for, as it's mainly a human instinct and man is social by nature, has become a rare value. Friends can help you celebrate good times and provide support in bad ones. They prevent isolation and loneliness and increase your sense of belonging. The so called "friends" on social media, because you only contact with them and limit themselves in comments or emojis to congratulate and condole instead of hastening to stand right next to you unless they have tough conditions, are false friends. My advice is to carefully choose your friends.

Doing research online

Your teacher has given you a homework task. Where do you start your research? The internet is very useful with lots of information, but how do you avoid spending hours reading unhelpful websites? Read on to find out how to use the internet effectively.

- 1) Look for websites by people, companies or universities, who have experience in or knowledge of the topic you are researching. If you know who wrote the website, try to find out more about their experience.
- 2) Think about who has written the website. Is it a company who may be trying to sell you something?
- 3) Check if the website is up-to-date. Is the information still reliable and useful? When was it updated?
- 4) Always consult more than one website. The advantage of looking at few different sites is that you can check the information and you may find extra facts.
- 5) What does the website look like? If it is badly designed and is full of grammar and spelling mistakes, then it is probably not very reliable.
- 6) Websites that have named their sources are usually more reliable and useful than sites that do not name their sources.
- 7) Save the URL (uniform resource locator) of any useful pages or images so you can find them easily.

Targeted advertising

Our computers and smartphones keep small pieces of information called cookies, which tell websites where we've been online and what we were looking at: Cookies are meant to make it easier for us to find things that interest us, but they also help advertisers to sell things to us. So, when we see an advert for something that seems to be exactly what we want, it is because advertisers know what we like. This kind of advertising is called targeted advertising. Sometimes advertisers know where you like to go and when you like to do things, so they can advertise to you when you are most interested. For example, they advertise places to eat when you're hungry.

They can also send adverts to your friends at the same time if they think you'll go together. Sometimes it's easy to see that something is an advert, like those large banner adverts that always seem to appear on websites when you're trying to read. And there are adverts that seem to appear in the strangest places, like the small sponsored adverts that you find in search results. Adverts are supposed to be honest, but we must be careful. When you see an advert online, think about why you might be seeing it and whether you can believe what it says.

Are you internet smart?

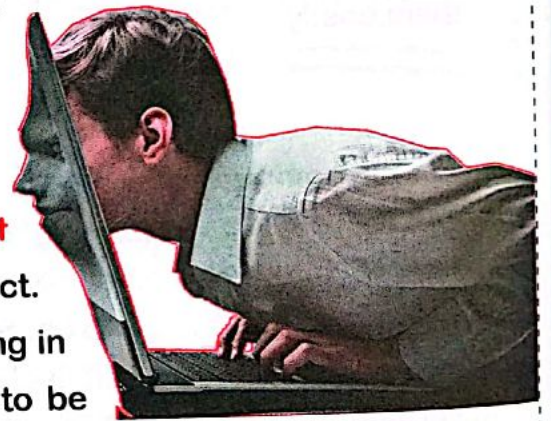

Do you really know how to protect yourself online?

There are several things you can do to stay safe.

- 1) Choose a strong password. Did you know the most common password in the world is '123456'? The best passwords should have numbers, letters and even a special character eg. T1342mS! It will be easier to remember if you make it personal in some way.
- 2) When you go online, make sure you have upgraded your browser with the latest software update before you open a webpage.
- 3) Be careful what you upload. Check what others can learn about you from what they can see behind you, and take down any photos you do not want others to download.
- 4) All of these tips seem obvious, but you'll be surprised how many people are careless online. Stealing someone's identity is more common than you think. Do not make the mistake of thinking that it can't happen to you.

Don't believe everything you read

The title of this article is advice which we may have heard from our parents or grandparents. Although it was true, in the past the speed at which we have access to new information means that this warning is even more important now. In the past, professional journalists always checked the facts that they wanted to publish against at least two reliable sources to make sure the story was correct. Checking sources, and the time needed to print something in a newspaper, meant that the news, which was meant to be new, was actually a day or two old.

Today the internet provides instant news and is a place where anyone can share information with the rest of the world at the touch of a button. This means that journalists often need to publish their stories quickly, so fact-checking isn't as good as it is meant to be. This is why not everything you read is what it seems to be even serious newspapers, which are supposed to be reliable, can make mistakes. Shane Fitzgerald, an Irish sociology student, wanted to test the influence of the internet. He posted a fake phrase online. It was supposed to be something that a French musician who had recently died had said. Almost immediately several newspapers published the phrase and it was read all over the world. The moral of the story is to listen to those with more life experience than you and remember not to trust everything you read online without checking it first.

Hey Khaled, can you help me? I'm doing a blog post on how to use social media well. Can you help me think of some interesting points to include, please?

Yes, sure. What have you got so far?

OK, I think I'm going to begin by talking about your profile. That's important on social media.

Definitely.

Great! What shall I write?

Well, I like seeing who I'm chatting with on social media, so I believe you should always put a nice picture of yourself on your profile. I hate it when people have symbols or something instead of their photo - you don't know who you are talking to.

I disagree; symbols tell you more about someone's thinks or feels.

Really, Hamid? Well, I think it's important that people don't know too much. For example, in my opinion, it's a bad idea to include your date of birth to show your age.

I see your point. Did you know that about 50% of teenagers have experienced bad behaviour? So, I think you're right not to give people too much information about yourself.

After all, you have to be sensible on social media if you want to enjoy it safely.

Leila, did you see the post that Hany put up the other day about social media behaviour in Egypt?

No, I was too busy updating my profile. Do you know how difficult it is to take a good photo of yourself?

I know what you mean. I just used a photo of my cat. Anyway, as I was saying, did you know that Hany's post said that 22 million people in Egypt connect to one popular social media app every day?

Wow! That's something like 20% of Egypt all on just one social media platform! But getting back to your profile photo, why don't you use a photo of yourself?

Don't you worry about what all those people might see on your profile? For example, imagine you post a photo of yourself doing something stupid now, and in a few years' time you apply for a job and the company look at your social media profile to see what kind of person you are. What opinion will they have of you?

I see your point, but in my opinion, social media should be personal and has nothing to do with your job.

I disagree. I read about a man who was fired from his job for criticizing his company on his personal profile. You can never be too careful. You don't know who might see your posts.

I didn't think posting a photo was so important!

Hanan

Lella

Hanan

Lella

The thing is that as soon as you post something, it is there forever. So, be careful with those selfies you're taking! Plus, Hany told me that he was once the victim of bad behaviour after posting a photo of himself in some old jeans. He reported it and everything is fine now, but it really affected him at the time.

Wow! Well, I might think twice about updating my profile picture and just keep the photo of my dog. I think she's so cute and my selfies all look terrible anyway!

I agree, I think your dog is lovely and it's a safer photo, too.

Listen to five young people talking about the effects of the internet

Narrator: 1

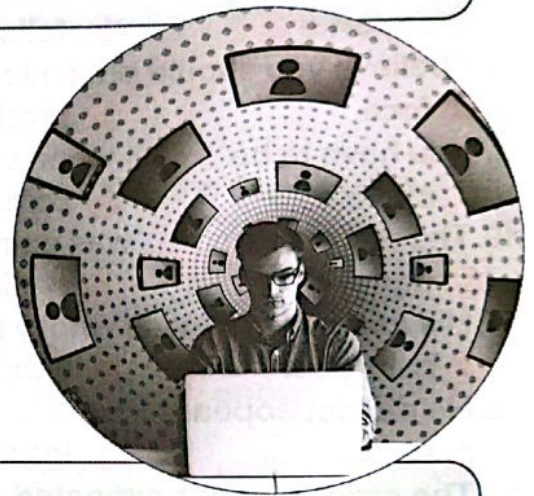

Dalida

Hi, I'm Dalida. I think the biggest effect that the internet has on young people is it keeps them entertained - there's always something to watch or listen to, and I'm never bored.

Narrator: 2

Injy

Hi, I'm Injy. Like most of my friends, I think I'm addicted to the internet. If I'm not checking my social media apps, I feel worried that I'm missing something important. It means I have a lot of arguments with my parents at mealtimes and when we go out together.

Narrator: 3

Ayman

Hello. I'm Ayman. I am so pleased I have the internet to help me with my homework. Imagine if you had to go to the library and read loads of books for every homework or project!

Narrator: 4

Osama

Hi, my name's Osama. I game online which is really fun, so I think the internet has a good effect on my life, but I do worry about my sister. She gets sad because she thinks her friends all have better lives than her and do more exciting things. She can't understand that they only post the good things and not the bad things.

Narrator: 5

Girl 2

Hi, Radwa here. I love the internet. I love computer programming so I go on forums to chat to other programmers - students and people who do it for a job. I have learned so much. And if I have a problem that I can't solve to do with programming someone on the forum can usually help me.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

People often ask me who I have to thank for my success as a pianist and songwriter. They expect to hear that I was born into a musical family and had an excellent piano teacher. However, the truth is different. When I was little, nobody played an instrument at home. I learnt to play the piano and sing because there was a piano in my house and I just wanted to make music.

My parents allowed me to sit at the piano and sing for as long as I wanted. If they were afraid that I would break the old piano, they never mentioned it. They didn't suggest that I should take lessons, either. The songs just came to me when I had my hands on the piano. I suppose I had musical talent and that is all you need. I started writing proper songs when I was a teenager. The music was mine, but the words were from other people's best songs. Then so easy. When you start to compose, you do that, you copy other people's best songs. Then you start changing the melodies and the words and you develop your own style. That only happened later, when I had grown beyond my teenage years. For a time, I thought music would be just a hobby. My parents had developed a strong belief that I would be able to make a living as a musician, but I had my doubts, so after school I took a job in radio and advertising. Then one day one of my songs won a prize and that changed everything. I realized my happiness was in music. I have been a musician ever since that day.

- What's the best title for this essay?

3 Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Everyone is individual and different in the same way as everyone's finger-prints are unique, so is everyone's personality. We can usually see people's personality in the clothes they wear or how they look after their things, or how they behave with other people around them. When we say that we know someone well, what we really mean is that we can make accurate guesses about what that person will do or think in certain situations. We know the different features of their personality. These features are called "personality traits".

Psychologists think that we have "central personality traits." These affect how we behave, and how we react to people and situations. Examples of central personality traits are friendliness, neatness, competitiveness, shyness and optimism. Some psychologists think that we inherit these central traits from our family and that they usually stay with us all our life. Psychologists say that we also have other traits, called "secondary traits", connected with the things we prefer, such as our favourite food, music, films or colours. These can change as we get older, but very often many of them stay the same all our lives.

Personality traits may be either positive or negative. The positive traits make the person appreciated by others while the negative ones make them hated. Positive personality traits include being human taking responsibility for actions, adaptability, determination, compassion, understanding, patience, courage and loyalty. Negative personality traits include lying which is a deplorable quality being selfish, laziness, inability to empathize with others, being disloyal and talking about others behind their back.

16. Which of the following can determine someone's personality?
 (a) The way they behave (b) The way they dream
 (c) The way they sleep (d) The way they write

Conditional forms

الجملة الشرطية

الحالة الصفرية

Zero Conditional

Zero conditional

Present simple

زمن المضارع البسيط (v : v + s)

Present simple

زمن المضارع البسيط (v : v + s)

Uses

الاستخدامات

* تستخدم للتعبير عن حقائق علمية عامة وللتعبير عن عادات ثابتة لا تتغير ولا ترتبط بتوقيت معين:

- ♦ If/ When you heat ice, it melts.
- ♦ If/ When water freezes, it turns into ice.
- ♦ If/ When I read for too long, I get a headache.
- ♦ If/ When our heart stops working, death soon follows.
- ♦ If/ When we mix white and red, we get pink.
- ♦ If/ When I read in bed, I fall asleep. It's a habit.

* لابد أن تكون الحقيقة عامة وليست خاصة وإذا كانت موقف خاص تستخدم الحالة الأولى وتحول الحقيقة العامة إلى خاصة كما يلي:

① استخدام صفة إشارة (those / these / that / this) قبل الفاعل أو المفعول.

- ♦ If goats eat the bark on a tree, the tree dies.
- ♦ If those goats eat the bark on a tree, the tree will die.

② استخدام صفة ملكية (my / his / her / its / your / our / their /'s...)

- ♦ If the plants on our farm get very thirsty, we will irrigate them.

③ ارتباط حدوث الفعل بمكان محدد أو بتوقيت محدد أو ما يدل على ذلك.

- ♦ Streets will become wet if it rains tonight.

الحالة الأولى

First Conditional

First conditional

Present simple

زمن المضارع البسيط (v : v + s)

will + inf.

أمر أو نهى can / may / should + inf.

Uses

الاستخدامات

* تستخدم للتعبير عن إمكانية حقيقية لحدث شيء في المستقبل تتوفر شروط حدوثه.

- ♦ If you study hard, you will succeed.
- ♦ If the bus arrives late again, I'll phone my mother.
- ♦ Tarek is ill. If he's better tomorrow, he'll come to school.

يمكننا استخدام الأمر أو النهى أو الطلب في جملة جواب الشرط:

- ♦ If Jana calls, tell her I am here.
- ♦ If she comes late, don't allow her to enter.

- ♦ If you have free time, can you help me?

يمكننا استخدام (may) في جملة جواب الشرط للتعبير عن الاحتمال أو (can) للتعبير عن المقدرة:

- ♦ If Jana studies well, she can get high marks.
- ♦ If Seif looks at me carefully, he may recognise me.

يمكننا استخدام (should) في جملة جواب الشرط للتعبير عن النصيحة أو (have to) للتعبير عن الإلزام.

- ♦ If you ask me, you should see a doctor.
- ♦ If Seif comes late, he has to apologise.

Second conditional

الحالة الثانية

Second Conditional

Past simple

شاذ أو + ed (v ماضى البسيط)

would + inf.

could / might + inf.

Uses

- * تعبر الحالة الثانية عن موقف غير محتمل أو شيء تخيلي في المضارع.
- ◆ If Toka had a million dollars, she would buy a big house.
- ◆ If I studied hard, I would pass.
- ◆ If I was / were a bird, I could fly.
- ◆ If I was / were rich, I would build a palace!
- ◆ If Egypt had a lot of rain, it might have a lot more trees.
- * تستخدم الحالة الثانية أيضا للتعبير عن النصيحة.
- ◆ If I were you, I'd help poor people.
- ◆ If I were you, I wouldn't waste my time.
- ◆ If I were you, I'd read this useful book.

Third conditional

الحالة الثالثة

Third Conditional

Past perfect

had + P.P ماضى التمام

would have + P.P

could / might have + P.P

Uses

- * للتعبير عن استحالة الحدوث وتستخدم للانتقاد أو الندم في الماضي
- ◆ If you had gone to the sports club, you would / could / might have seen Ali.
- ◆ If I had had enough money yesterday, I would / could / might have bought that mobile phone.
- ◆ If Toka had left earlier, she wouldn't have missed the train.

Between lines

① يتم حل جمل الاختياري عن طريق النظر إلى الجملة الكاملة سواء كانت جملة فعل الشرط أو جملة جواب الشرط ثم تحديد الحالة من الجملة الكاملة كما يلي:

- * الجملة الكاملة هنا جملة جواب الشرط وبها would + inf. وهى تعبر عن الحالة الثانية أى الاختيار الصحيح سوف يكون ماضى بسيط.
- * الجملة الكاملة هنا جملة فعل الشرط و بها had + P.P وهى تعبر عن الحالة الثالثة أى الاختيار الصحيح سوف يكون به would have + P.P.
- ② لاحظ كلمة had فقط تعبر عن الحالة الثانية أما had + P.P تعبر عن الحالة الثالثة:
- ◆ If she had a car, she would be faster.
- ◆ If she had visited Luxor, she would have enjoyed.
- ③ لاحظ كلمة would have فقط تعبر عن الحالة الثانية أما would have + P.P تعبر عن الحالة الثالثة:
- ◆ If she started saving, she would have a big sum of money.
- ◆ If she had started saving, she would have had a big sum of money.
- ④ لاحظ الجمل التالية:
- ◆ If he had written work, he..... them.
(published - will publish - would publish - would have published)
- * هذه الجملة الحالة الثانية رغم وجود had written وذلك بسبب أن كلمة written هنا صفة مع كلمة work بمعنى عمل مكتوب وليست تصريف ثالث بعد had
- ◆ If the novel he had,exciting, I would have read it. (had - had had - had been - been)
- * هذه الجملة الحالة الثالثة وسوف نختار had been رغم وجود كلمة had بالجملة إلا أنها تتبع الفاعل.

Judy

Huda was my best friend. We'd always hang out together at school. We made each other laugh a lot and we were very close. Sometimes, we'd hang out together after school as well. We'd listen to music, look at magazines and chat for hours.

One weekend, we went shopping at the mall. We had a great time as usual, but that was when she showed me her new smartphone.

Apparently, it was a really good phone and Huda couldn't stop using it all the time. She got really into social media and made lots of new friends online.

How are your friendships?

Have you ever met a friend to spend time with them and, when you're in the middle of a conversation, when you're talking they start looking at their phone? When that happens, many people feel ignored and upset. And the problem may be getting worse because over 81% of Egyptian teenagers between the ages of 15 and 17 now own a phone.

Studies have shown that just having a mobile phone out while having a conversation makes friends feel uncomfortable with each other. Any many people think that when someone is using their phone, they are not being polite and not really listening. So, using a phone like this can damage even good friendships.

However, there are ways to have a phone without losing your friends. Understanding the problem is important. So, the next time you are going to pick up your phone while talking to a friend, think about what you are doing and stop. Is your phone really more important than your friend? Perhaps you should keep your attention on the person you are talking to. And if a friend ignores you, tell them about it because they may not understand how it makes you feel.

So, if you want to be a kind and honest friend, keep your phone in your pocket and your eyes on your friendship.

Presenter

In today's show, we're going back in time and looking at some of our regrets. Now I've got a message from Tarek. And Tarek has a story that, I think, will bring back memories for many of us. This is what he says

I used to talk to my family and play with my brothers after school! I also used to phone my grandparents and my cousins. But then I got into using social media more.

I started using social media to talk to my friends after school too. We all liked the same things. It was fun and we all got on with each other. Sometimes I'd hang out with them online for hours chatting.

I guess I lost touch with my cousins and my grandparents a bit. I still saw them sometimes, of course, but I didn't call them. I didn't tell my grandparents about my day at school.

But when my friends started falling out with each other online, I stopped chatting with them, too. Now, I'm sorry, I shouldn't have ignored my family. I wish I'd kept in touch with my cousins more. I should have called my grandparents, and I wish I could change what happened.

Sadly, this kind of thing seems to happen so often these days. I guess, when we're getting into something new, we can forget to take an interest in the people who really care about us.

Thank you for sharing your story with us,

Tarek

Prep School Memories

- Hoda Hey Lamia! Have you seen this from Ola? She's posted some old photos from when we were in prep school.
- Lamia Really? Let's see. But, I don't remember an Ola in our class.
- Hoda Yes, you do. She used to sit opposite you in class and you would always fall out when we played any game together because you both wanted to be the leaders.
- Lamia Ahhh, yes. I remember now. I shouldn't have argued with her so much because she was a kind person really.
- Hoda Look. Here she is in the photo.
- Lamia Ahh, wow!
- Hodaand look at us! Oh, no way! Just look at your hair!
- Lamia Oh, that's terrible! And what about your dress!
- Hoda Oh, no! Not that dress! It brings back so many bad memories. That was the dress I was wearing when I lost my favourite necklace. I wish I hadn't taken it to school that day.
- Lamia But the necklace was very pretty and if you hadn't taken it to school, Samira wouldn't have spoken to you about it and you two wouldn't have got on so well!
- Hoda That's true! I guess, and we are still very good friends now.
- Lamia And look! There's the old group of friends we used to hang out with. I was sad when they moved away to go to high school and really wish we hadn't lost touch with them.
- Hoda Yes, we had some great times together and if we had stayed in touch, we would have been able to organise a school reunion. I wish we hadn't left prep school! We had a lot less homework!
- Lamia That's true! Perhaps we can keep in touch with them on social media.
- Hoda Good idea! Let's post a message asking if anyone knows anything about them.

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

Many robots have been sent to Mars. Such robots have usually looked like a box with wheels. Scientists have been developing a new and unusual kind of robots move like snakes, so they have been given the name snakebots. "They can get into very small spaces, like cracks in rocks or trees. A snakebot would be much more effective than regular robots with wheels, which easily get stuck or fall over. Since they can carry tools, snakebots would be able to work in space, as well. They could, for example, help repair the International Space Station.

A snakebot is built like a chain made of about thirty parts, or modules. Each module is basically the same in that they all have a small computer and a wheel to aid movement. The large computer in the "head" of the snake makes all of the modules in a snakebot work together. The modular design of the snakebot has many advantages. If one module fails, another can be added easily. Snakebot modules can carry different kinds of tools, as well as cameras. Each module can work apart from the rest if necessary.

Researchers are also trying to develop snakebots made of plastic that can change its shape using electricity, almost like animal muscles. Snakebots made with this plastic will be very strong and hard to break. Overall, the snakebot design is much simpler than that of common robots and they will be much less expensive to build unlike the ordinary robots which are unreliable, extremely expensive, and they break easily.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

As the world population continues to grow and climate change makes it more difficult to produce food in the traditional way, scientists are developing new ways of growing plants efficiently. One of these ways is growing plants without soil.

Although this may sound like a modern process, it is not new technology. Ancient Egyptians writings describe how plants were grown in water and early examples include the famous gardens of Babylon and floating gardens built by the Aztec in Mexico. In traditional farming, soil protects the roots of plants, but scientists have shown that plants don't need soil to grow as long as they can get nutrients from somewhere, they will grow successfully.

To grow plants without soil, a special fertilizer is added to water, and the plants take this in through their roots.

Recently, this technology has developed very quickly. It is common in northern Europe where it is used to grow food crops. Vegetables have been grown in submarines and astronauts have produced food in space using this technology. Many people think that growing plants in water could help to solve the world's food problems. As cities become larger, there is less land for agriculture. Countries with little land for growing crops could produce more of their food without soil. This way can also be used in poor soils such as deserts and in areas near the sea where is salty water is damaging the soil. Perhaps soon there will be no areas in the world where food can be produced.

2) Read the following passage, then answer the questions: (5 Marks)

أزهر الدقهلية ٢٠٢٣

According to the United Nations, there will be almost 10 billion people in the world by 2050. As a result, we will have to increase our food production about 70 percent. However, farmers don't have space on the land to keep more livestock and grow more crops. So why don't we think about farms in the sea?

Algae are plants that grow very quickly in water and wet places. Some kinds of algae are called seaweed and this is a very popular food in China and Japan. Algae is very healthy food and some scientists believe that a lot more people will be eating it in the future. They hope that farmers will not need to damage the environment because they will be growing our food in the ocean.

Act I, Scene i

[In King Lear's Palace.]

(DUKE OF) GLOUCESTER: Ah, the Duke of Kent! Hello, my friend. Have you met my son, Edmund?

(DUKE OF) KENT: I haven't, Kent. He's a fine young man. You must be proud of him.

GLOUCESTER: I'm very proud of him.

EDMUND: I'm pleased to meet you, sir.

GLOUCESTER: Edmund is my second child I also have another son, Edgar, who is about a year older than Edmund.

EDMUND: Listen! The King is coming.

[King Lear enters with Cornwall and Albany and his three daughters, Regan, Goneril and Cordelia. Gloucester and Edmund leave].

KING LEAR: Listen, everyone. I want to tell you all about my plan. I've decided to give everything in my kingdom to my three daughters, Goneril, Regan and Cordelia. I will also give an answer to the King of France and the Duke of Burgundy. They have both asked to marry my youngest daughter, Cordelia. First, look at this map of my kingdom. I have divided it into three. I want to give the largest part to the daughter who loves me the most. So tell me, my daughters, which of you loves me the most? Goneril, you are the eldest, so you can speak first.

GONERIL: Father, I love you more than anything. No child can love a father more than I love you. I love you more than health, beauty and riches.

CORDELIA: [To herself.] I love my father, but I don't know what to say!

KING LEAR: [Pointing to the map.] Goneril, you can have all this land, with its green forests and beautiful countryside. Now, Regan, wife of Cornwall. What does my second daughter want to say?

REGAN: Father, Goneril has described her love for you very well. But I have more to say. Your love is the only thing that makes me happy. I love nobody as much as you.

CORDELIA: [TO herself.] What can I say? I don't have the words to say how much I love my father.

KING LEAR: Thank you Regan. I will give a third of our beautiful kingdom to you and your children. [To Cordelia.] Now, Cordelia, my youngest daughter. What can you say to make me give you more than I gave to your sisters?

CORDELIA: I can say nothing, father.

KING LEAR: Nothing? Cordelia, if you say nothing, I will give you nothing. Speak again.

CORDELIA: I cannot put my feelings into words. I love you as a daughter should love a father; but not more, and not less.

KING LEAR: But this is not kind, Cordelia. Change your speech a little, or your future will change, too.

CORDELIA: You have always been a good father and it is my duty to love you too. But my sisters say they only love you. How can this be true? Do they not love their husbands, too? If I marry, I will love my husband as much as my father.

KING LEAR: Cordelia. Do you really mean this? Can you be so young but also so cruel?

CORDELIA: Father, I am young but I am honest.

KING LEAR: Then you are not my daughter any more. You are now a stranger to me. I don't know you.

KENT: But your majesty

KING LEAR: Be quiet, Kent! I loved Cordelia, and I wanted her to look after me when I was old. Now she must go! But first, call the King of France and the Duke of Burgundy! While we wait for them, listen to what I say: Goneril and her husband Albany, and Regan with her husband Cornwall, will have half of my kingdom each. They will have all the power and riches that come with being a king. All I want is to keep the title of King, but they will have everything else.

KENT: Your majesty, what do you mean? I must speak honestly when my King is being foolish. Your youngest daughter does not shout about her love for you, but that doesn't mean she loves you the least. You mustn't give your country away like this.

KING LEAR: Say nothing more to me, Kent!

KENT: I am not afraid to make you angry if it will help to protect you.

KING LEAR: Then you must go away too! Leave!

KENT: Let me stay and give you good advice, King Lear. You must learn to see better.

KING LEAR: Oh, you are a cruel man!

[He puts his hand on his sword].

(DUKE OF) CORNWALL: Your majesty, please stop!

KENT: I'll say it again, King Lear. You've done a terrible thing.

KING LEAR: Kent! You've got five days to leave my kingdom, or you'll be killed. Go!

KENT: Then I'll say goodbye to you, my dear King.

[To Cordelia.] I hope you stay safe, young lady, because you were honest. And now I say goodbye to all of you; I shall live my life in a new country.

[Gloucester enters with the King of France, the Duke of Burgundy and his men.]

GLOUCESTER: Here are the King of France and the Duke of Burgundy, your majesty.

KING LEAR: Burgundy, I will speak to you first. What do you expect to have if you marry my daughter Cordelia?

(DUKE OF) BURGUNDY: Your majesty, I only expect to have what you promised me.

KING LEAR: I am sorry, but things have changed. Sir, there she is. You can marry her.

BURGUNDY: I don't understand.

KING LEAR: You'll get my daughter and nothing more. Take her, or leave her. It's your choice.

BURGUNDY: I'm sorry, sir. I cannot marry her without some of your land.

KING LEAR: Then leave her, sir.

CORDELIA: Goodbye, Burgundy! I see now that you love things more than you love me, so I shall not be your wife.

KING LEAR: [To the King of France]. So, the great King of France, I don't want you to marry someone I hate; so I suggest you give your love to a better girl.

(KING OF) FRANCE: But sir, Cordelia was your favourite daughter! It is very strange that she has suddenly lost all your love. I cannot believe that Cordelia could do anything terrible to anyone.

CORDELIA: [To King Lear.] Father, understand that I show my love in my actions, not my words. Please tell him that I haven't done anything wrong to make you hate me.

KING LEAR: I shall not. Go! You will have nothing from me!

FRANCE: My beautiful Cordelia, you are richer for being poor and I love you more now that you are hated! I'm happy for you to be my wife.

[To the King.] Your daughter will be queen of my country. Say goodbye to them, Cordelia, although they've been unkind to you. You have lost your life here, but you'll find a better one with me.

KING LEAR: She is yours, King of France; I'll never see her face again. [To Cordelia.] Leave now, without my love. Come with me, Burgundy.

[King Lear leaves with Burgundy, Cornwall, Albany, and Gloucester]

Act I, Scene I, continued

[In King Lear's Palace.]

FRANCE: Cordelia, it is time to leave your country now. Say goodbye to your sisters.

CORDELIA: Goneril and Regan, I am sad to leave you both. My heart is broken. Be good to our father. If he still loved me, I'd take good care of him! Please look after him well.

GONERIL: Don't tell us what to do, Cordelia.

REGAN: Yes, go to your husband. You've failed to do what your father asked you to do. Now, you've got what you deserve.

CORDELIA: I don't know what you are planning, sisters, but remember: everyone discovers the truth in the end. Goodbye!

FRANCE: Come with me, my dear Cordelia.

[The King of France and Cordelia leave.]

GONERIL: Sister Regan, we must talk. I think our father will leave here tonight.

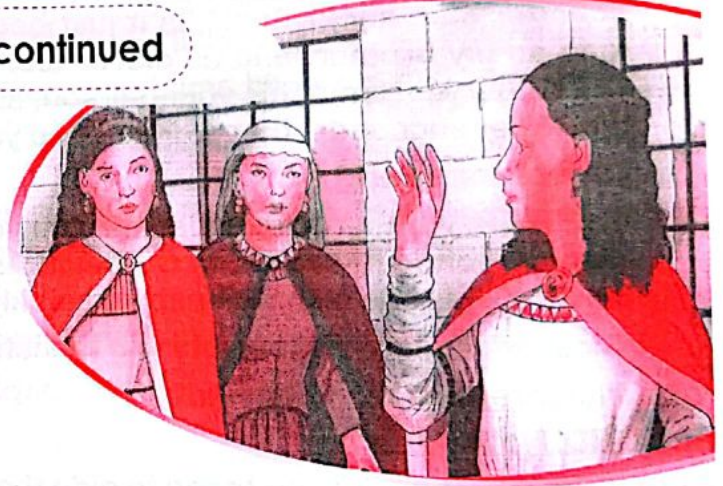

REGAN: I'm sure he will, and he'll leave with you. Next month, he'll stay with my husband Cornwall and I.

GONERIL: Our father always loved Cordelia the most, and a poor decision has made him send her away.

REGAN: He is becoming a little mad in his old age.

GONERIL: Even when he was younger and healthy, he was a difficult man. So we must be prepared for what ill health and old age will bring.

REGAN: He was angry when he sent Kent away today. He will probably be angry more often in the future.

GONERIL: Let's sit together and talk, if our father still has some power, his anger will become a problem for us.

REGAN: You are right. Let's think about what we can do.

GONERIL: We must do something, and quickly.

Act I, Scene ii

[At the Duke of Gloucester's Castle. Edmund enters with a letter.]

EDMUND: My father Gloucester says that his first son, Edgar, will get his land when he dies. But why should I not have my inheritance just because I'm twelve or fourteen months younger than my brother? Is it just because I'm (he second son? I'm just as strong and kind as my brother, and as clever too. Well, elder brother, Edgar, I will have your land. Our father loves me, his younger son, as much as he loves you. And I have a letter here. If this letter succeeds, then Edmund the younger son will beat the older son Edgar!

[Gloucester enters.]

GLOUCESTER: Ah Edmund, my son! Have you heard? The King has sent Kent away! And the King of France has left with Cordelia! And the King has left the palace tonight without his powers! This has all happened so quickly!

[Gloucester notices Edmund hiding the letter.]

What are you doing Edmund?

EDMUND: Nothing, father.

GLOUCESTER: Why are you trying to hide that letter? What's in it?

EDMUND: Nothing, sir.

GLOUCESTER: Then, why did you hide it in your pocket? Let me see it.

EDMUND: Please forgive me, father. It is a letter from my brother Edgar that I haven't finished reading yet; but I don't think you should read it.

GLOUCESTER: Let me see that!

EDMUND: OK, but! hope he only wrote this to test me and my loyalty to my family,

GLOUCESTER: [Reads the letter.]

When we respect older people too much, it makes it hard for the young to live well. Our parents keep our money from us until we are too old to enjoy it. Older people only have power because we give it to them. Come and see me, so that we can discuss this. If our father were dead, you could enjoy half his income, and be loved by your brother Edgar. Did my son Edgar write this letter? When did you receive this? Who brought it?

EDMUND: It wasn't brought to me, sir. I found it. It was thrown in through my bedroom window.

GLOUCESTER: Are you sure the writing is your brother's?

EDMUND: Yes, it is his handwriting, father.

GLOUCESTER: Has he ever talked to you about this before?

EDMUND: No, never. But I've often heard him say that when a son becomes an adult, he should be given some of his father's income.

GLOUCESTER: Oh, what a cruel son! Go and find Him, Edmund. Where is he?

EDMUND: I don't know, father. Please, don't be angry with my brother. Let's find out what he meant then you can decide what to do. I'm sure he wrote this to test my love and loyalty to you, and for nothing more dangerous than that.

GLOUCESTER: Do you really think so?

EDMUND: Yes. Listen, I have a plan. I'll hide you somewhere tonight. I'll discuss it with my brother and you can listen to our conversation. Then you'll know what he really thinks.

GLOUCESTER: My son cannot be so cruel to a father who loves him so much. Edmund, find Edgar and make him talk to you. I want to know the truth.

EDMUND: I'll find him immediately.

GLOUCESTER: Find him, Edmund, and be careful. (to himself) What is happening? I cannot believe that Kent has been sent away! He is an honest man. It is all too strange.

[Gloucester exits. Edgar enters].

EDMUND: Ah, Edgar. There you are. How are you? When did you last see our father?

EDGAR: I am well, Edmund. I saw our father last night.

EDMUND: And did you talk to him?

EDGAR: Yes, we spent two hours together.

EDMUND: Did you say anything unkind to him? He's very angry with you at the moment. Please don't go near him until he's less angry.

EDGAR: Really? Then somebody has lied about me.

EDMUND: That's what I'm worried about. Stay with me for now, I'll take you to see our father when he feels better. Here's my key. Oh, and if you go out, take your sword.

EDGAR: My sword? But why?

EDMUND: That's the best advice I can give you. Please, go quickly!

[Edgar exits]

EDMUND: My brother and father trust me, which makes them easy to deceive. I need these two fools to make my plan work. If I can't get some land in the correct way, I'll have to be clever to get it.

[Edmund exits].

Act I, Scene iii

[At the Duke of Albany's Palace. Goneril enters with her servant Oswald.]

GONERIL: Did my father, King Lear, hit my servant?

OSWALD: Yes, madam.

GONERIL: I must do something. His soldiers are starting to behave badly, and my father gets angry about everything. When he comes here, I won't speak to him. I'll tell him that I am ill.

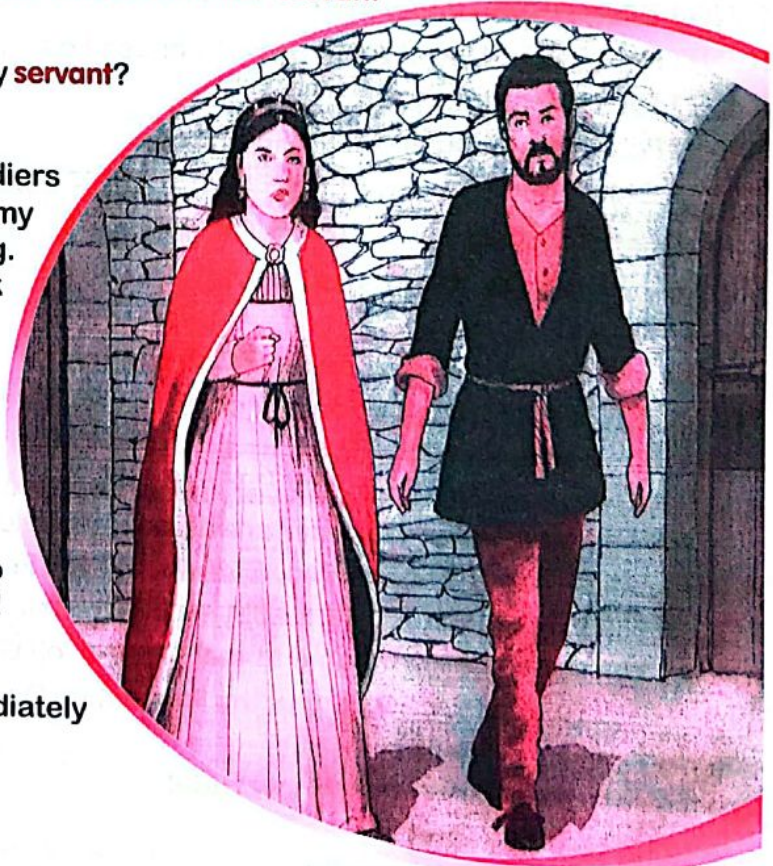

OSWALD: He's coming, madam; I can hear him.

GONERIL: Tell the other servants not to do what he asks them. If he's unhappy, he can stay with my sister. The foolish old man still wants to have the power that he's given away!

OSWALD: Yes, madam

GONERIL: I'll write to my sister immediately and tell her my plans.

[She exits.]

Act I, Scene iv

[At the Duke of Albany's Palace. Kent enters in different clothes.]

KENT: I've disguised myself in different clothes, and I have changed how I usually speak, so I can help the man who told me to leave. I still love the King and I'll continue to work hard for him, but he won't know me.

[King Lear enters with soldiers and servants.]

KING LEAR: Get my dinner ready.

[A servant exits.] [To Kent] Who are you?

KENT: I am a poor but honest man.

KING LEAR: What do you want?

KENT: I want to help you, sir.

KING LEAR: Do you know me?

KENT: No, sir; but I want to help you because I can see that you are an important man.

KING LEAR: What can you do?

KENT: I can give good and honest advice.

KING LEAR: Then follow me. You can be my servant.

[Oswald enters.] You, where's my daughter?

OSWALD: I'm sorry, sir...

[He exits.]

KING LEAR: What did the man say? Call him back.

SOLDIER: He said that your daughter wasn't well.

KING LEAR: Why didn't he come back when I called him?

SOLDIER: Your majesty, he was very rude. I don't know what the problem is; but the servants, the Duke and your daughter are all being very unkind to you.

KING LEAR: I've noticed that too. But where's my Fool? I haven't seen him for two days.

SOLDIER: He has been very unhappy since Cordelia went to France.

KING LEAR: Don't say her name to me! Go and tell Goneril that I want to speak to her.

[The soldier exits. Oswald and the Fool enter.] Oh, you, come here! Who am I?

OSWALD: My lady's father.

KING LEAR: My lady's father? How rude!

[King Lear hits him.]

OSWALD: Don't hit me, my lord.

KENT: [Hitting him.] Don't be rude to the King hit you, too!

KING LEAR: Thank you. You are a good man.
[Goneril enters.]

KING LEAR: What's the matter, Goneril? Why are you holding your head?

FOOL: You should worry, old king, because you gave everything away, rather than worrying about her head. One day, you will want everything back.

GONERIL: Father, are you encouraging your men to behave badly? Your Fool says and does what he wants.

FOOL: Even a fool knows when the cart is pulling the horse.

KING LEAR: Does anyone here know who I am? Tell me!

GONERIL: You're old and you should be wise. But you're keeping a hundred soldiers here; they are noisy and rude. Please don't have so many soldiers, and only keep the men who can behave well.

KING LEAR: [angry] What did you say? Call my soldiers. You won't have any more trouble from me, because now I have only one daughter left.

[Albany enters and he is very surprised.]

[To the soldiers.] Prepare my horses.

ALBANY: Please, sir, wait.

KING LEAR: [To himself.] Oh, why was I angry with Cordelia? She was not as rude to me as Goneril. Why was I so foolish?

ALBANY: Your majesty, I don't know what's made you angry, but I'm not guilty.

KING LEAR: That might be true, but listen. If Goneril has a child one day, and the child is cruel to her, she will understand how I feel. Then she will have a taste of her own medicine.

[King Lear exits.]

ALBANY: What has happened, Goneril?

GONERIL: Nothing, Let him shout. He is a mad old man.

[King Lear enters again.]

KING LEAR: Goneril, you have told fifty of my soldiers to go!

ALBANY: What is the matter, sir?

KING LEAR: I'll tell you. [To Goneril.] I cannot believe that you have the power to make me so unhappy. But you have. I still have one daughter left, and I am sure she will be kind to me when she hears what you have done. She will not be happy with you!

[King Lear exits with Kent, and Attendants.]

GONERIL: Did you hear that, my husband?

ALBANY: You know how much I love you, Goneril, but

GONERIL: Do not say more.

[To the Fool.] You, go. [The Fool exits.]

GONERIL: Is it a good idea to let him keep a hundred soldiers to help him in his old age? They might attack us.

ALBANY: I think you are worrying too much.

GONERIL: It's better to worry and be safe. I've written to my sister Regan and told her everything. I'm not angry with you because you asked me to be kinder to my father, but you are being foolish.

ALBANY: Maybe you know more than I do, Goneril, but I think you are making problems rather than solving them.

Act II, Scene i

[In the Castle of the Duke of Gloucester. Edmund enters.]

EDMUND: [To himself. So, I hear that the Duke of Cornwall is coming here tonight. That's good! It will help my plan a lot. My father has a guard ready to arrest my brother. But there's one more thing I should do first. Here's Edgar.

[Edgar enters.]

Brother, can we talk? Our father's coming here soon, so you must go! He knows you are hiding here. But first, we must pretend to fight. Pick up your sword. Quickly, before our father gets here. Now run from here, brother. (Calls out) Help me!

[To his brother again.] Goodbye, Edgar.

[Edgar exits.]

[To himself.] If there's some blood on me, people will think I've been in a fight.

[He cuts his arm.]

Father, father! Stop him, stop him! Help!

[Gloucester enters with servants]

EDMUND: Look at my arm, father, I'm injured.

GLOUCESTER: What happened? Where's Edgar?

EDMUND: He ran that way. When I refused his plan.

GLOUCESTER: You there, follow him!

[Some servants exit]

What plan, Edmund?

EDMUND: His plan is to kill you, father. I told him that I loved you. Finally, when he understood that I didn't want to help with his terrible plan, he cut my arm with his sword. Then he saw that I was ready to fight him, and he quickly ran away.

GLOUCESTER: He'll not run very far. If he stays in this country, we'll soon find him. Then we'll arrest him. The Duke of Cornwall is coming here tonight. I will tell him that there's a reward for any man who finds Edgar. And anyone who hides him will be arrested, too.

EDMUND: Father, I tried to persuade Edgar to stop his plan, but he wanted to continue with it. I told him that I would tell you all about it "Do you think anyone will believe you?" Edgar said. "No. I'll say that it was all your idea. They know that you will profit most if father dies, not me."

GLOUCESTER: This is terrible! It is a stab in the back. I'll stop people from leaving England's ports, Edgar won't leave the country. Thank you, my loving son Edmund. Now I will do everything to help you. You will inherit all my land.

[The Duke of Cornwall enters with his wife Regan and servants.]

CORNWALL: Gloucester, how are you, my friend? Since I've arrived here, I've heard some strange news.

REGAN: If it is true, it is terrible news!

GLOUCESTER: Oh Regan, my heart is broken!

REGAN: Did your son really try to kill you? Your son Edgar?

GLOUCESTER: Yes, it's true! I wish it were different.

REGAN: I know Edgar spent time with my father's soldiers.

EDMUND: That's correct, madam, he spent some.

REGAN: Then the soldiers have given him the idea of plotting against his father, trying to kill him, so that he can use his father's money. I've just had a message from my sister Goneril about the soldiers. She has warned me to be careful of them. If they come to my house, I won't be there.

CORNWALL: Edmund, I hear that you've been a good son to your father.

EDMUND: It was my duty, sir.

GLOUCESTER: Edmund told me of Edgar's plan, and he got this cut on his arm when he tried to stop him.

CORNWALL: Is anyone following Edgar?

GLOUCESTER: Yes, I've sent some guards.

CORNWALL: The guards must arrest him. Edmund, I'd like you to work for me. I need men like you that I can trust.

EDMUND: I'd be happy to help you, sir.

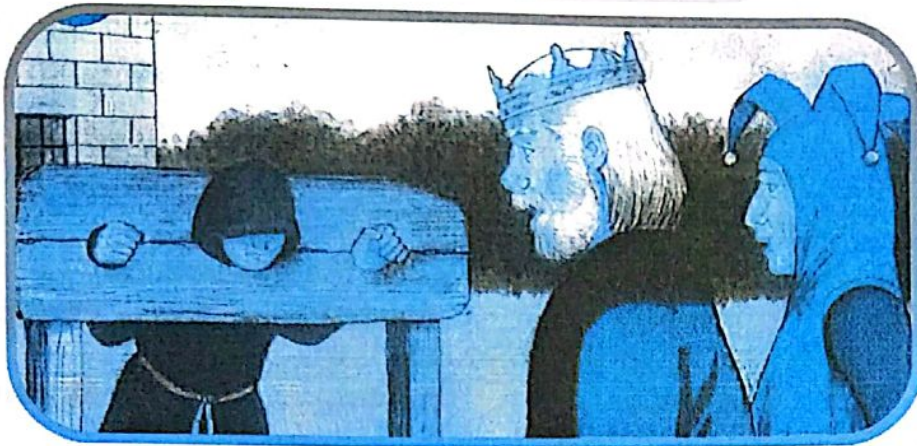

GLOUCESTER: I thank you, Cornwall

[They exit.]

Act II, Scene ii

[in the countryside. Edgar enters.]

EDGAR: I've heard people say that I'm guilty! But I was not caught, because I hid in this old tree. It's not safe for me to go to any port now. Guards are looking for me. So I must disguise myself as a beggar. I will change my clothes and make my face and hair look dirty.

[He changes his clothes.]

I'll wear these clothes of a poor man, and live outside under the rain. Nobody will see Edgar any more. From now, I'll call myself Poor Tom.

[Edgar exits.]

[Enter, Lear, Fool and Knight. Kent is in the stocks.]

KENT: Good morning, my lord.

KING LEAR: [Looks in disbelief at Kent in the stocks]. What has happened? Who did this to you?

KENT: It was your daughter Regan and her husband Cornwall, sir.

KING LEAR: But you are working for the King! They should not do this to you! This is terrible. Where's my daughter?

[King Lear exits.]

KENT: Fool, why has the King got so few soldiers now?

FOOL: He has no money, so he has fewer people to help him But I'll be faithful to him, the Fool will always stay, and let the wise men run away.

[King Lear and Gloucester enter together.]

KING LEAR: Why don't they want to speak to me? You say they are sick? They are tired? That's no answer.

GLOUCESTER: I'm sorry, your majesty, but you know that the Duke of Cornwall easily feels angry. He won't change his mind.

KING LEAR: What? He's angry! Well, I'm angry, too!

[He sees Kent in the stocks again.]

Why is he sitting in the stocks? Go and tell the Duke of Cornwall and his wife that I want to speak to them, now! [Gloucester exits.]

KING LEAR: Oh, my heart, my unhappy heart!

[Cornwall, Regan, Gloucester and Servants enter.]

REGAN: Father, I'm pleased to see you.

KING LEAR: My dear daughter Regan, your sister is nothing to me. Oh Regan, she's been so cruel to me! You won't believe how badly she has behaved.

REGAN: I don't think my sister-could be unkind to you. If she has stopped your badly behaved soldiers, she has only done it to help you.

KING LEAR: I'm very angry with her!

REGAN: Father, please go back to my sister's house, you're the one who is wrong, not my good sister Goneril.

Act II, scene iii

[In the countryside.]

KING LEAR: Regan, I will not stay with your sisters Goneril. Please, give me clothes, food and a bed. Remember, I am old.

REGAN: Please father Go back and stay with my sister.

KING LEAR: Never, Regan! She's told half of my soldiers to leave! She's has been cruel and rude to me! I want rain to always fall on her head!

REGAN: You'll want the same to happen to me soon.

KING LEAR: No, Regan, I'll never say bad things about you. Goneril's eyes are cruel, but yours are kind. You would never turn your back on me. And you'd not lock me out of your house. You understand how a daughter should help her father. You haven't forgotten that I've given you half of my kingdom.

REGAN: Father, why are you unhappy?

CORNWALL: Listen! Who's coming?

REGAN: It's my sister. She said in her letter that she would come soon.

[Goneril enters with Oswald.]

KING LEAR: Who put my servant in the stocks? Regan, I hope that you didn't know about this.

[To Goneril.] You shouldn't want to look at me Oh Regan, why are you holding her hand?

GONERIL: Why shouldn't she hold my hand, father? What have I done wrong?

KING LEAR: Oh, how unhappy you've made me. You're too cruel Why won't you apologise to me? And why is my servant in the stocks?

CORNWALL: I put him there sir, because he didn't behave well.

KING LEAR: You? Was it you?

REGAN: Please, father, you're ill today. Stay with my sister until the end of the month. Then, if you ask half of your soldiers to leave, you can come and stay with me.

KING LEAR: Stay with her, and ask my soldiers to leave? No, I would rather sleep outside under the stars.

[To himself.] Return with Goneril? I would prefer to stand in front of the King of France and ask him for food. Go back with her? I would prefer to be the servant of this terrible man.

[Points at Oswald.]

GONERIL: It's your choice, father.

KING LEAR: Please, daughter, don't make me mad. I won't set eyes on you again, my child, goodbye. We won't meet any more. But you will soon feel bad about what you've done I'll be patient for now, and I'll stay with Regan with my hundred soldiers.

REGAN: That is not possible. My home isn't ready for you. Listen to my sister. Are fifty soldiers not enough for you?

GONERIL: My servants could help you.

REGAN: Yes, why not, father? We have enough servants. When you come to me (for now I see the danger of so many men), I ask you to bring just twenty-five soldiers. I won't have rooms for any more.

KING LEAR: But Regan, I gave you everything.....

REGAN: And you gave it to me at the right time!

KING LEAR: I gave you enough to live well for all time! I asked for just one thing - to keep a hundred soldiers. Are you really asking me to come with just twenty-five, Regan?

REGAN: Don't talk to me any more about this.

KING LEAR: [To Goneril.] Then I'll go back with you. Your fifty soldiers is double her twenty-five, so you must love me twice as much as she does.

GONERIL: Listen, father. You do not need twenty-five, ten or even five soldiers in a house where we have fifty servants to look after you.

REGAN: Why do you even need one soldier?

KING LEAR: Why do I need them? Even the poorest beggars have things that they don't need. If you only give people what they need to live, then they are little more than animals. You are a lady. If you just want to stay warm, you don't need those beautiful clothes you're wearing. They don't keep you warm at all. But, if you ask me what I really need, I need patience! Oh, give me patience, or I will go mad!

[King Lear exits with Gloucester and the Fool. There is a huge storm.]

CORNWALL: We should go inside; there's a big storm coming.

REGAN: This house is small; there isn't room for Lear and his soldiers.

GONERIL: Where is the Duke of Gloucester?

CORNWALL: He followed Lear. [Gloucester enters.] Here he is.

GLOUCESTER: The King is very angry. He has called for his horse.

CORNWALL: Let him go. He won't listen to anyone.

GONERIL: Yes, don't try to stop him.

GLOUCESTER: But it is nearly night and strong winds are blowing. There is nowhere to shelter for many kilometres.

REGAN: That will teach him a lesson. Lock the doors. He has his soldiers with him, and who knows what they'll persuade him to do.

CORNWALL: Regan is right. Lock the doors, it's a wet night. Come in out of the storm.
[They exit.]

Act III, Scene i

[In a field in the countryside. The storm continues. Kent enters with a soldier.]

KENT: Who's there, in this terrible weather? Where's the King?

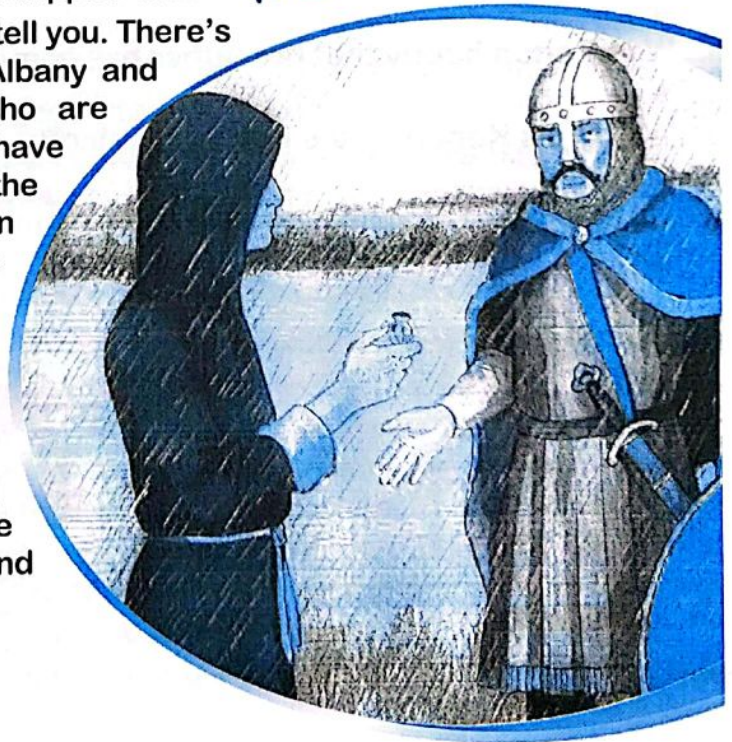

SOLDIER: He's fighting with the wind and the rain. This terrible night would make a bear hide in a cave, but the King is running around outside without even a hat.

KENT: But who's with him?

SOLDIER: Only the Fool, who tries to make him happier with his jokes.

KENT: Sir, I trust you. I have got something to tell you. There's a disagreement between the Dukes of Albany and Cornwall. They both have servants who are really spies for the King of France. They have noticed that the Dukes are both against the King. Now the King of France has sent an army, and the French have spies at some of our ports. If you trust me, go quickly to Dover. There are people there who'll thank you when you tell them about the King's problems. I'm not the person who you think. I'm really an important man. If you see Cordelia, show her this ring, and she'll tell you who I am. Here's some money. Oh, this storm! I must go and find the King.

[They exit.]

Act III, Scene ii

[In another part of the field. The storm continues. King Lear enters with the Fool.]

KING LEAR: Blow winds, and let the rain fill our houses with water! Let lightning cut a tree in two, and burn my white hair!

FOOL: Oh, old man, go inside, and ask your daughters to forgive you!

KING LEAR: I'm a poor, weak old man. Why is the weather being cruel to me, like my daughters?

[Kent enters.]

KING LEAR: Who's there?

FOOL: Ah, here's someone who is both a wise man and a fool.

KENT: Oh no, why are you here? Even bears want to stay in their caves on a night like this. There's so much wind and rain! The storm is terrible.

Your majesty, there's a poor man's hut near here. It will shelter you from the storm. Stay there and rest, while I go to the house of your hard-hearted daughters.

KING LEAR: When I asked for you, they did not let me in their house, so I'll force them to allow you in. But I think I'm going mad!

[To the Fool.] How are you, my boy? I'm cold. Where the straw? It's strange how I now want to have horrible things such as a bed of straw to sleep on!

[King Lear exits with Kent.]

Act III, Scene iii

[At Gloucester's castle. Gloucester enters with Edmund.]

GLOUCESTER: Oh, Edmund, I don't like the way Goneril and Regan are behaving with their father! When I asked them to help Lear, they told me not to talk about him or to look after him.

EDMUND: That's very cruel of them!

GLOUCESTER: Go to them; but do not say anything. There is some disagreement between the two Dukes, and maybe something even worse than that. I got a letter tonight.

[To himself.] No, it's too dangerous to talk about it to him.

[To Edmund] I have locked the letter in my bedroom. Some of the French army have already arrived in England. We must help King Lear. I will go and look for him and help him. You go and talk to the Duke of Cornwall and do not tell him where I am. If he asks for me, tell him I'm ill and have gone to bed. Strange things are happening, Edmund. Please be careful.

[He exits.]

EDMUND: [To himself.] I'll go and tell the Duke immediately about your worries for the King, father. I will tell him about that letter, too. Then I'll get rewarded for this, and I'll win the trust that my father loses. The younger man rises as the old man falls!

[He exits]

Act III, Scene iv

[In a field in front of a hut. King Lear enters with Kent and the Fool.]

KENT: Here is a hut where we can shelter, my lord. Please, go inside, This terrible storm makes it impossible for anyone to stay outside.

KING LEAR: Oh, my cruel children! You sent me out into a terrible storm like this. Oh Regan, Goneril! Your kind old father gave you everything! But I'll go mad if I think about this. I won't think about it any more!

KENT: Please, go inside.

KING LEAR: [To the Fool.] You go in first, my boy.

[The Fool goes into the hut.]

Poor homeless people, you are always outside when there's a cruel storm. How can your hungry stomachs and old clothes help you when it rains? Why have I not thought about this before? Rich people should try walking in a poor person's shoes, and then the world would be a better place for us all.

[The Fool enters. He has just come out of the hut and he's very frightened.]

FOOL: Don't go in there, sir. There's a mad man in that hut.

KENT: Who's in there?

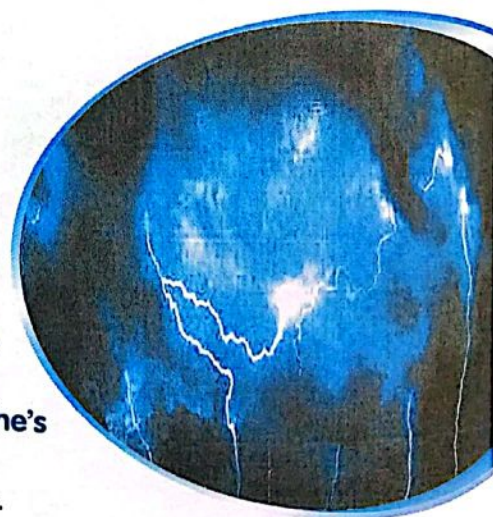

FOOL: A mad man! He says his name is Poor Tom.

KENT: Who are you? He says his name is Poor Tom.

[Edgar enter disguised as a madman called Poor Tom.]

EDGAR: Keep away from me!

KING LEAR: Are you mad like me? Have you given everything to your two daughters?

EDGAR: Nobody gives anything to Poor Tom.

KING LEAR: Have his daughters done this to him?

[To Edgar.] Don't you have anything?

FOOL: No, he only has a blanket.

KING LEAR: Only cruel daughters could have made a man so poor. Who were you?

EDGAR: I was a servant, who was very proud.

KING LEAR: It would be better if you were dead than go around with nothing but a blanket on a night like this!

FOOL: Look, here comes a walking fire.

[Gloucester enters carrying a torch.]

KING LEAR: Who's this?

EDGAR: My name is Poor Tom, and I once had six shirts to wear and a horse to ride, but now all I have is mice to eat.

GLOUCESTER: Has your majesty nobody to help you apart from this mad man? Why have our children grown up to be so terrible, my lord? Why do they hate their fathers?

EDGAR: Poor Tom's cold.

Gloucester: Come inside with me, your majesty. I didn't want to do what your cruel daughters asked me to do. They asked me to lock the doors and leave you outside on this terrible night. I've come to find you and take you home, where there's a fire and food ready for you.

KENT: My lord, please accept this man's offer and go to the house.

KING LEAR: First, let me talk to this philosopher. What are you researching?

EDGAR: I am researching how to keep warm and to kill mice.

KENT: [To Gloucester.] Ask him again, my lord. He's a beginning to go mad. He thinks the poor man is a philosopher.

[Gloucester holds his torch it in front of him and looking at Edgar and Kent, but they are both disguised.]

GLOUCESTER: I'm not surprised Lear is mad. His daughters want him to die. Ah, that good man, Kent! He knew what would happen - the poor man! I'm almost mad myself. I have a son who tried to kill me. No father loved his son more than I loved him. What a night this is! Please your majesty, come with me.

EDGAR: Tom's cold.

GLOUCESTER: Go into your hut, Tom; keep yourself warm.

KENT: This way, your majesty.

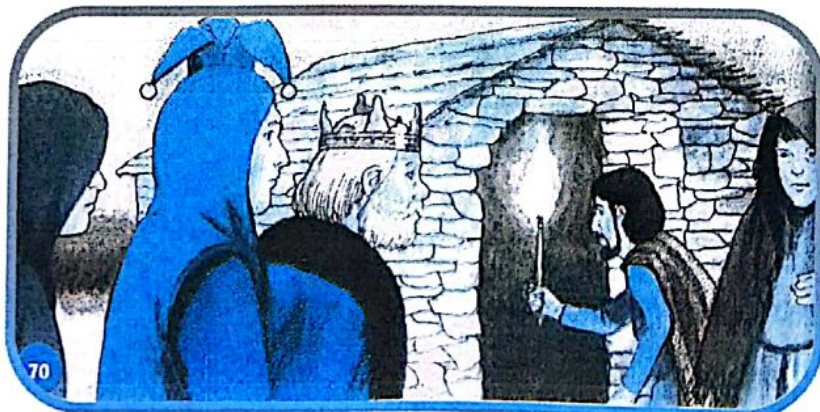

KING LEAR: [Pointing to Edgar.] I am going with him!

KENT: My lord, let him bring the poor man with us.

GLOUCESTER: OK. Sir, come on; come with us.

KING LEAR: Let's go then, my good philosopher.

[They exit.]
